"BRIBE-GIVERS AND TAKERS AS WICKED AS MURDERERS"

—President Roosevelt In Message to Congress

ODELL THINKS ZIEGLER PAPERS ARE IRREGULAR

Doesn't Like Their Looks Because They Do Not Specify the Date the Defendant Is Alleged to Have Been in Missouri

CROW INSISTS "BLANK" IS SUFFICIENT SPECIFICATION

Hearing of Extradition Case Involving Millionaire Hardly Starts Before
Lawyers Engage in Hot Tilt
That Promises a Lively Proceeding

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 7.—The requisition of Gov. Dockery of Missouri upon Gov. Odell for the extradition to that state of William Ziegler of New York City, upon an indictment in Cole County, Mo., on the charge of furnishing funds for the bribery of Missouri legislators in connection with the banking power legislation, was the subject of a hearing before the governor today.

The Missouri authorities were represented by Attorney-General Crow and T. B. Harvey of Missouri and Sheriff Smith of Cole County. Mr. Ziegler was present in person and his counsel, John M. Bowers, De-lancey Nicoll, Edward Lauterbach, William J. Underwood and John D. Lindsey. Mr. Bowers first demanded to know upon what dates the Missouri authorities alleged Mr. Ziegler was in the state of Missouri and committing the alleged crime.

"Upon blank dates in March, 1901," replied Attorney-General Crow. There followed a spicy wrangle between Mr. Bowers and Gen. Crow, which Gov. Odell interrupted, saying:

"Come, now, gentlemen, let us get down to the meat of the matter. It seems to me, now, that the papers in this case are not regular in that they do not allege the date when the defendant was in the state of Missouri, committing this crime. I think that if the defendant was not in the state of Missouri at the time of the committing of the crime, then it is my duty to defend him.

"A very bad precedent might be established by permitting a citizen to be taken from this state on an insufficient basis of fact."

Crow Maintains That

Allegations Are Sufficient

Mr. Crow maintained that if the acts and contentions of the state of Missouri were not to be given full faith, but were to be disputed, the burden of proof was upon those attacking them.

He said that the dates concerned covered a considerable period of time. "In early January, about the March 19, and from the first to the third of April, 1901, covering substantially the entire period of the session of our general assembly in that year."

Mr. Bowers said the attack was not upon the entire administration of justice in the present gubernatorial race in Missouri, nor upon the sufficiency of the charges, but upon the indictment. He then turned upon Judge Harvey and demanded to know whom he represented.

"I am a practicing attorney of the city of St. Louis," replied Judge Harvey. "I appear here to assist Gen. Crow with his contentions. I am not a citizen of the state of Missouri, whose business has been practically destroyed by the legislation whose repeal this bribery prevented."

Outlines Defense

"We could not improve upon that," remarked Mr. Lauterbach.

"It appears to me," said Gov. Odell, "that if any crime was committed, it was of this legislation."

"Certainly," cried Mr. Bowers, "and that shute them up to the date of March 19."

Mr. Bowers then read an affidavit of District Attorney Brown of Cole County, asserting that Mr. Ziegler was in that county on blank date in March, 1901.

"We propose to show," said Mr. Bowers, "that Ziegler was not in that county in his life and the swearing out of this warrant was an atrocious crime against the liberty of a citizen and against the sovereign power of two states to bring this man into the state of Missouri, where they can try him on any charge they please."

Attorney-General Crow then arose and replied indignantly what he called an insult to a sovereign state, its chief executive and its prosecuting officers.

"I do not know the gentleman who makes this charge," he said, "but I deem it my duty to state to you and myself to declare his statement to be false and to say that I am ready to try out the date of the 19th of March," retorted Mr. Bowers.

"Are you ready to try out the date of the 19th of March?" retorted Mr. Bowers.

FUNERAL OF DAVID O'KEEFE WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY

The funeral of David J. O'Keefe, who died Sunday after an illness of 11 weeks, will be held at the family residence, 1300 Coleman street, at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Service will also be held in St. Teresa's Church. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

SPLINTER TAKEN FROM HIS EYEBALL

Young Man Relieved of Effect of Accident Which Befel Him in Childhood

LITTLE PAIN UNTIL LATELY

Particle of Wood One-Fourth of an Inch Long Entered Eye as He Chopped

James E. Mayberry of 2919 Olive street, an art student, has been relieved of a hard wood splinter which had been lodged in the ball of his left eye for 15 years. Neither the young man nor his parents knew the splinter in his eye.

Young Mayberry suffered intense pain during the past two weeks. Glasses gave him no relief. An oculist to whom the case was given was told of an accident which befel the sufferer when he was a child 4 years old.

Without explaining his purpose the oculist began a treatment with a lotion, which he dropped into the eye and administered to the surface of the ball. This drew the splinter to the surface. The pain only increased. During the night when the young man declared he could no longer stand the agony, a member of his family investigated and saw the end of the splinter protruding from the eyeball. It was easily pulled out.

The young man then rested in sleep, the first he had had in many days. While living six miles from Stuttgart, Ark., with his parents, the Mayberry boy was chopping wood with an ax. The cross-grained handle broke and the end of it flew into the air, falling, sharp point downward. The point struck the boy in the eye. He bled profusely and suffered greatly. Four hours passed before he could be tended by a physician. The blood clots made it impossible for the real nature of the wound to be seen. Two stitches were taken in the eyeball and the membrane raised perfectly within a short time. The pain ceased and the accident was thought no more of.

As the boy grew he did not suffer any ill results from his injury and the eye was so perfect that he was able to pass the examination for service in the volunteer army during the Spanish-American war. Since the removal of the splinter the eye has been as well as ever and no further trouble is anticipated.

The splinter was one-fourth of an inch long and about the diameter of a pin.

ANNA DREYER GETS FINAL NOTIFICATION OF HER DISMISSAL

Letter From Baumhoff Discharges Her and One From President Proctor Declares That Action in Her Case Is Satisfactory to the Civil Service Commission.

ST. LOUIS LAWYER STARTS DEFENSE FUND IN ANNA DREYER CASE

The following communication on the Dreyer case has been received from John H. Boogher, an attorney in the Carleton building:

Wherever I have recently found two or three gentlemen gathered together, the Dreyer-Dreyfus case has furnished the subject for conversations full of indignation that an innocent woman could possibly have her reputation damaged and her means of earning a living taken from her by such gross and tyrannical injustice as seems to have been meted out to her.

Only this morning I was talking with three gentlemen, and this was the subject of our talk. It was suggested that the Post-Dispatch might be willing to select two or three gentlemen of ability and standing in the community, whose respect for the women of their families makes them respect all women, and who would give a few days of their time to an endeavor to see that justice is done in the case.

Will you undertake the selection of gentlemen for this purpose and the collection of a fund with which to pay their expenses to Washington?

Inclosure of $10 as my contribution to such a fund.

JOHN H. BOOGHER.

Letters received by Miss Anna Dreyer Monday morning formally notify her of her "separation" from the service of the St. Louis postoffice.

They reiterate the statements that the postmaster-general considers her explanations to charges of conspiracy unsatisfactory, and that the civil service commission considers that the charges were sufficient to put her on her defense, and the time given her for reply was ample.

It is denied that her removal was occasioned by her connection with the investigation into the charges against her brother-in-law, Andrew McGrew.

One of the letters received by Miss Dreyer is merely a formal notification of her "separation" from the service. The other is from John R. Proctor, president of the civil service commission. The letters follow:

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5, 1903.

Miss Anna Dreyer, 308 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

Madame—I am in receipt of a letter from Hon. Henry C. Payne, postmaster-general, dated Dec. 3, in which he directs me to inform you that your explanation to charges preferred against you is not satisfactory to the postoffice department.

You are therefore separated from the service of the St. Louis postoffice. Respectfully,

F. W. BAUMHOFF, Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3, 1903.

Miss Anna Dreyer, 308 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

Madame—The commission has your communication of Nov. 30, relative to your removal from the position of clerk in the St. Louis postoffice. In which you allege that the charges filed against you were not sufficient to put you on your defense, and that you were not given a reasonable time in which to answer.

In reply, you are advised that the commission deems the charges made by the postmaster-general to be sufficiently specific to notify you of the acts with which you were charged and to put you on your defense. It is not within the province of the commission to determine the sufficiency of the evidence, the decision in that matter resting with the postmaster-general. Where a removal is not made for political or religious reasons, the commission's duty ends when the procedure required by the removal rule is complied with.

It is only necessary that the charges made against an employee shall be sufficiently definite to enable him to make proper defense. The removal rule is satisfied if it does not demand the same degree of definiteness that is required in law courts in preferring indictments. Thus, if the charges against an employee are definite enough to advise him of the actual offense with which he is charged, the removal rule is satisfied. In view of the investigations that have been made in the St. Louis postoffice, in which charges made by yourself and others were looked into, you were undoubtedly aware, when charged with entering into a conspiracy "to secure false and defamed testimonials" against Postmaster Baumhoff, of the facts to which reference was made. Moreover, your objection that three days was not a reasonable time in which to prepare your answer is merely technical. It appears from your letter that, as a matter of fact, you did not come to prepare your answer and did submit it to the postmaster-general, and from the standpoint of administrative action, that all that is required.

With reference to your allegation that your connection with the investigation directed by Mr. John B. Winkle of charges against Andrew McGrew had something to do with your removal, the commission has nothing whatever to do with your removal.

JOHN R. PROCTOR, President.

THE KAISER IS ALARMED

His Condition Less Satisfactory Than Officially Admitted at Berlin

PARIS, Dec. 7.—Information received here through authoritative channels from Berlin represents the condition of Emperor William as being less satisfactory than officially admitted. It is said that the Emperor himself is seriously apprehensive.

NO CRIME IS MORE SERIOUS THAN BRIBERY

"The exposure and prosecutions of official corruption in St. Louis, Mo., and other cities and states have resulted in a number of givers and takers of bribes becoming fugitives in foreign lands. . . . It should be the policy of the United States to leave no place on earth where a corrupt man, fleeing from this country, can rest in peace. . . .

"There can be no crime more serious than bribery. Other offenses violate one law, while corruption strikes at the foundation of all law. Under our form of government all authority is vested in the people and by them delegated to those who represent them in official capacity. There can be no offense heavier than that of him in whom such a sacred trust has been reposed, and who sells it for his own gain and enrichment; and no less heavy is the offense of the bribe giver.

"He is worse than the thief, for the thief robs the individual, while the corrupt official plunders the entire city or state. He is as wicked as the murderer, for the murderer may only take one life against the law, while the corrupt official and the man who corrupts the official alike aim at the assassination of the commonwealth itself.

"Government of the people, by the people, for the people will perish from the face of the earth if bribery is tolerated. The givers and takers of bribes stand on an evil pre-eminence of infamy. The exposure and punishment of public corruption is an honor to a nation, not a disgrace. The shame lies in toleration, not in correction.

"No city or state, still less the nation, can be injured by the enforcement of law. As long as public plunderers when detected can find a haven of refuge in any foreign land and avoid punishment, just so long encouragement is given them to continue their practices."

President Roosevelt's Message.

CONFESSES HE HAS PASSED BAD BILLS

Police Prisoner Is Held as a Member of Active Gang of Counterfeiters

Edward Radcliffe, 38 years old, of 2011 Olive street, was arrested by the police Monday afternoon on suspicion of being a member of a gang of counterfeiters. At the Four Courts Radcliffe confessed that he had himself passed seven counterfeit bills. Last week business men on North Broadway reported to the police that they had been receiving counterfeit $1 bills in payment for $5 and $10-cent purchases, giving the change in return. Two young men were described as passing the bills.

SOCIAL INTERCOURSE TRUST

St. Louis Laundrymen Apply for Incorporation on This Basis, but Are Refused

The petition of the St. Louis Laundrymen's Association of Employers for a decree of incorporation was denied in the circuit court Monday.

The petition declared that the association was organized for the improvement of the minds of its members by social intercourse, but Referee Robert in his ruling says that the association was organized for the pecuniary gain of its members and a consolidation of the St. Louis laundry interests.

THE CRIME OF BRIBERY AND EVENTS IN PANAMA CHIEF POINTS OF MESSAGE

Referring to the Exposure of Official Corruption in St. Louis, President Roosevelt Declares That No Spot on Earth Should Be Permitted to Offer a Safe Asylum for the Bribe-Giver or the Bribe-Taker.

A NATION'S WHIMS MUST NOT BAR WORLD'S PROGRESS

Full Explanation of the New Conditions on the Isthmus, Colombia's Perfidy, the Birth of the Republic, and the Important Provisions of the New Treaty for the Panama Canal.

PITH OF THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

1. Beneficial effect of publicity in exercise of national supervision over great combinations of corporations.
2. Progress made under the departments of commerce and labor in the solution of questions affecting labor and capital.
3. The treasury surplus for the present fiscal year will be small—if there be any surplus.
4. It would be unwise to attempt a reconstruction of our entire monetary system.
5. Suggests appointment of commission to report on ways and means of urging our merchant marine.
6. Urges appropriations to enable the attorney-general to prosecute and convict persons guilty of postal, naturalization and land frauds.
7. The exposures and prosecutions of official corruption in St. Louis, makes manifest the necessity of including bribery among extraditable offenses in all treaties.
8. The decisions in the Alaskan boundary case of material advantage to the United States, and emphasizes the good will between England and America.
9. Good effect of American warships in Turkish waters on the attitude of the Sultan.
10. Pressing need of complete revision of public land laws.
11. Excellent effect on the army following the introduction of the general staff system.
12. Urging further increase of the navy and establishment of a naval base in the Philippines.
13. Review of the Panama canal negotiations, the failure of Colombia to ratify the treaty, the accession of Panama, recognition of the new republic and provisions of the new treaty to be presented to the Senate for ratification.
14. The President says: The government of the United States would have been guilty of folly and weakness, amounting to a crime against the nation, had it acted otherwise than it did in relation to the Panama republic.

FULL TEXT OF THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President Roosevelt sent the following message to Congress today, and it was read in both houses:

I.

National Supervision Over Combinations of Corporations

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

The country is to be congratulated on the amount of substantial achievement which has marked the past year both as regards our foreign and as regards our domestic policy.

With a nation as with a man the most important things are those of the household, and therefore the country is especially to be congratulated on what has been accomplished in the direction of providing for the exercise of supervision over the great corporations and combinations of corporations.

"Cooler," but Not Very Cold, the Officially Declared Prospect for the Next 24 Hours

Monday is a dull day in weather circles. Not a point in the country shows as low as zero, it is warmer in the central valley, the lake regions and the eastern Rocky mountain slopes, rain is still falling in the South, there is more frost in Florida, and this is the official prediction for St. Louis:

"Fair and cooler Monday night and Tuesday. Fresh west to northwest winds. Minimum temperature Monday night about 24 degrees."

The Northwest has become so balmy that apprehension as to what is preparing to do is felt. Sunday night was unusually warm. The lowest temperature was 33 degrees at midnight, and from that time on the mercury rose. The mark at 7 o'clock was 38, and at 9 o'clock 38. No rain or snow is in sight.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Missouri—Fair Monday night and Tuesday; cooler; fresh northwest winds.

Kentucky—Fair Monday and warmer tonight and Tuesday.

DEFENDER OF WOMEN KILLED BY STILETTO

Fighting Ten Men, Defender Falls While Companion Flees and Those Protected Escape Annoying Crowd Which Hemmed Them In

WOUND INFLECTED IN BACK, THEN HIS ASSAILANT FLED

Police Seek Members of Attacking Gang and Hold Women to Be Questioned by Coroner—Sisters Learned of Death While at Church

The two women, in defense of whom Leonard Fahle of 521½ Belmont avenue, was murdered and his body mutilated, are held as prisoners until they can be further questioned as to the murder and the incidents of the fight that preceded it.

Mathew Walsh of 1834 Kennett place, Fahle's companion a few months before the murder, who escaped while Fahle was fighting with his murderers, will appear as a witness before the coroner.

Carlo Ruggeri, known as "Frenchie," is held as a suspect on evidence given by the women, Mrs. Beattie Meadows of 230½ Eugenia street and Mrs. Lizzie Miller of 2315 Walnut street.

Others who are sought by the police are Joseph Berri, Angelo Specia and John Calcaterra. Chas. Olufson, a saloon keeper known as "Charlie," is supposed to know the names of the men in the party who assaulted Fahle and Walsh, will also be questioned by the police.

The police believe that Mrs. Meadows and Mrs. Miller have told the truth as far as they have told anything. But they believe the women know more than they have told.

"Frenchie" does not speak English, and if anything has been learned from him through an interpreter, the police are keeping it as a secret.

Walsh tells only of what happened between the time that the two women appeared to Fahle and himself for help, and the time of his own flight in obedience to a warning from Fahle to "run."

Walsh says he fought as long as he could, but as there were ten men in the attacking party, and as three or four of them were fighting him while the others attacked Fahle, he could do little.

Back Pierced by a Stiletto

He says Fahle was still standing and fighting the last he saw of him, and he thought that Fahle, when he said "run," was also making his escape.

The scene of the fight and murder was on King's highway, between Manchester road and the Missouri Pacific tracks. The fight started beside the fence of a big lumber yard, on the west side of King's highway.

Fahle was shot in the head and a stiletto wound pierced his back just under the shoulder blades. His clothing was slashed into ribbons by knife thrusts that did not penetrate his body, and his face and sides were bruised and lacerated as the result of scores of blows and kicks.

The body was lying face downward, and death had resulted some hours before the recovery by a night watchman, John J. Brien, of 484½ Shaw avenue.

There were the prints of many feet and evidences of a struggle extending 100 feet north of the spot where the body was found. Beside the fence of the lumber company was found Walsh's hat.

O'Brien reported the discovery of the body at once and it was taken to the morgue. Walsh's hat gave the first clue. Walsh was found at work and declared that he did not know of the murder. He identified the body, and gave descriptions which led to the arrest of the two women.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE MERGED INTO REGULAR BUSINESS

The President's Message Was Received and Read in Both Houses and Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The first regular session of the Fifty-eighth Congress began at noon today, but the Senate met half an hour before that hour, in accordance with the adjournment of Sunday last for the permitting of an orderly adjournment of the calendar session.

The Senate held a short executive session, confirming a few unimportant nominations. President Frye pro tem at 12 o'clock declared the extra session adjourned until today. He immediately reported for order and the chaplain offered prayer. The roll call of the Senate then followed for the regular session.

The President's message was received and read in both House and Senate.

PUSHING THE NAME OF HIS FRIEND WOOD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The President will send to the Senate today the nomination of Gen. Leonard Wood to be major general of the United States army.

Gen. Wood's promotion is the subject of much discussion. He will also send in the nomination of John C. Miller to be collector of the port of New York.

Miller was 72 years old when he was appointed. He has been a collector of the port of New York for many years.

The women, he says, had already gone, and he did not again see them. The women told the same story of their meeting with Fahle and Walsh and of the fight.

Just then Walsh found that his revolver had dropped out of his pocket. As he stooped to pick it up, two or three of his assailants saw it and scrambled to get it. Then came Fahle's warning cry, "Run," and Walsh, supposing that Fahle was also making his escape, ran.

PUSHING THE NAME OF HIS FRIEND WOOD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The President will send to the Senate today the nomination of Gen. Leonard Wood to be major general of the United States army.

Gen. Wood's promotion is the subject of much discussion. He will also send in the nomination of John C. Miller to be collector of the port of New York.

Miller was 72 years old when he was appointed. He has been a collector of the port of New York for many years.

The women, he says, had already gone, and he did not again see them. The women told the same story of their meeting with Fahle and Walsh and of the fight.

Just then Walsh found that his revolver had dropped out of his pocket. As he stooped to pick it up, two or three of his assailants saw it and scrambled to get it. Then came Fahle's warning cry, "Run," and Walsh, supposing that Fahle was also making his escape, ran.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE MERGED INTO REGULAR BUSINESS

The President's Message Was Received and Read in Both Houses and Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The first regular session of the Fifty-eighth Congress began at noon today, but the Senate met half an hour before that hour, in accordance with the adjournment of Sunday last for the permitting of an orderly adjournment of the calendar session.

The Senate held a short executive session, confirming a few unimportant nominations. President Frye pro tem at 12 o'clock declared the extra session adjourned until today. He immediately reported for order and the chaplain offered prayer. The roll call of the Senate then followed for the regular session.

The President's message was received and read in both House and Senate.

PRINCESS SHOT WOMAN CAUGHT WITH HUSBAND

Prince Otto of Windisch-Graetz Was Entertaining Beautiful Actress in His Rooms When Infuriated Wife Appeared and Sought Rival's Life

WOUND IS SERIOUS, BUT WILL NOT CAUSE VICTIM'S DEATH

Former Archduchess, Who Renounced Right to Austrian Throne to Wed Poor Lieutenant, Also Shot at Valet

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch. Copyrighted, 1903, by the Post-Dispatch Publishing Co. VIENNA, Dec. 7.—Prince Otto of Windisch-Graetz, his youthful and immensely wealthy wife, the Princess Elisabeth Marie, whom he married only a year ago, and a pretty actress of the opera at Prague are the central figures in an extraordinary scandal that is at this moment rending half a dozen European courts.

The princess—who is the granddaughter on her father's side of the Emperor of Austria, and on her mother's side of the King of the Belgians, only 20 years old, a royal personage who renounced her rights to the throne of Austria in order to marry as her heart dictated—has had a narrow escape from the stigma of a murderess, for she did nothing less than shoot and seriously wound the actress with whom the prince was having a rendezvous.

The remarkable affair took place in the palace of the estate of the prince's family at Prague. The news of it has just reached here, where it stirred the court and society generally in Austria-Hungary, and the smaller states of the dual monarchy. It was an especially startling piece of information at Brussels, the court of the King of the Belgians.

It appears that Prince Otto had been secretly paying attention to the actress, a slender, beautiful girl, as whose feet were half the gilded youth of Prague.

The princess was blissfully ignorant of the intrigue until on a certain night she was informed, presumably through some disappointed suitor of the actress, that the prince was entertaining in his apartment a valet, a valet stood at the door. He had been told to guard it with his life.

Princess Fired at the Faithful Valet

Faithful to his master the valet stood, but almost ready to drop from fright.

Then the princess, slender, tall and statuesque, fired at the man.

Uttering a yell of fear, the valet dashed down the corridor, whereupon the princess proceeded to the prince's apartment, to which had not penetrated the noise of the thrilling scene in the corridor. Frenzied with rage and humiliation, the princess stood before the guilty pair, revolver in hand.

The prince paler as he realized that a tragedy was contemplated. He sprang toward his angered princess, but as he did so the princess cried "shoot" and shot the actress in the breast.

The woman uttered a shriek and fell unconscious to the floor.

The prince seized his wife, who would have made her revenge complete with another shot had not her intention been thwarted.

The princess, now overcome with the enormity of her deed, broke down and was led weeping from the apartment.

Medical aid was summoned and it was found that the actress had a serious but not mortal wound.

Renounced Throne to Wed for Love

The princess is the daughter of the unfortunate Prince Rudolph, whose tragic death stirred the whole world. The crown prince and the Countess Marie Vetters were found dead together at the hunting lodge. Myriads of the supposition being that the prince had killed the countess and then committed suicide.

Because of the scandal connected with the death of her father, the Archduchess Elisabeth declared that she would never marry into any reigning house. From time to time her engagement to the young King of Spain and other royalties had been unofficially announced and for years she was regarded as one of the most desirable catches among the royal families of Europe.

Prince Otto is 24 years old. Before his marriage to the Archduchess Elisabeth Marie of Austria he was a simple lieutenant in the First regiment of Vienna. He and the archduchess met at a grand ball here and fell in love. The Austrian emperor, whose favorite granddaughter she was, opposed the match, but his determined granddaughter told him she would either marry the man she loved or retire to a convent.

The emperor gave way and the marriage was celebrated in a magnificent way here after the archduchess had renounced her right of succession to the dual throne of Austria and Hungary. In consideration of her renunciation, the emperor gave the princess a yearly allowance of $50,000, a yearly allowance of $50,000, a yearly allowance of $50,000, a gold dinner service and several residences.

FOUND EATING AN EGG, SHELL AND ALL.

Rational people thought it was awful, as the shell had no food value, and was, of course, indigestible and injurious. It is just as crazy for rational people to swallow a lot of cod liver oil, to get the medicinal curatives from it, as it was for the crazy man to eat the egg, shell and all.

Modern science has proved that the oil, or greasy part of cod liver oil has no value, and only upsets the stomach and retards recovery. It is the medicinal elements which are enveloped in the cod liver oil, of which there are about 50, that represent all the tonic and curative power of the famous old remedy.

A preparation containing all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but entirely free from oil or grease, must, therefore, be the very best tonic reconstructive possible. Such is Vinol. It positively does contain every one of the 50 odd medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, fresh and sweet, just as the egg shell contains the nutritious food, and we throw away the useless, indigestible oil, just as you throw away the egg shell.

Knowing its wonderful medicinal and curative power, we guarantee to restore health and strength to the following or refund money without question:

Run down, debilitated, tired, overworked people; old people, women, nursing mothers, young, ailing children, convalescents or to people suffering with hard colds, hacking coughs, chronic consumption and bronchitis. Vinol never fails to make rich, red blood and give strength to the weak and health to the sick. Try it on our guarantee. If it doesn't do you any good it won't cost you a cent. Wm. Wilson Drug Co.

GRIM WAR AT THE CITY HALL

House of Delegates Will Demand Explanation From Board of Public Improvements

John R. McCarthy, speaker pro tem. of the House of Delegates, announced his purpose Monday morning of beginning war on the Board of Public Improvements by demanding, through a resolution, that they state why they do not allow competition in specifications for bituminous macadam paving.

McCarthy says his resolution will be introduced at the next meeting of the house. He declares that the Board of Public Improvements insists on inserting the name of "Warren" in its specifications, and that as the legislative body has no power to amend the Board of Public Improvements bills, it must either let the specific mention go through or kill the bill.

McCarthy says the name "Barber" is omitted from asphalt paving specifications, and he wants to know why it is necessary to mention "Warren." He says the Board of Public Improvements has been asked frequently for an explanation of its reasons for limiting opportunities for bidding, and has refused to give them.

Stenographers Victimized by Hoax

An advertisement for a young woman stenographer wanted at "the law library, Circuit Court building," was inserted in the Sunday newspapers, and nearly five hundred young women learned Monday that it was a hoax. The courthouse was overrun all day with women of all ages, vainly seeking the man who wanted a stenographer. Some laughed about it, some cried, others only wondered, and all were disappointed.

WOMAN BRIDE LEAVES HER OWN REQUIEM

Mrs. Kate H. Boutell, Well-Known St. Louis Church Worker, Dreamed of a Beautiful Eternity

I shall fall asleep in the twilight, as I have so often before. To dream of the beautiful city that I shall wake in no more. There will fall on my restless spirit a hush, O, so wonderfully sweet and still, cross over the river to rest at the Master's feet.

These lines found in her Bible will serve as a requiem for Mrs. Kate H. Boutell, wife of Mrs. Boutell of 1164 1/2 Euclid avenue, whose funeral services will take place at her home Tuesday afternoon. The lines will be read by Rev. William M. Jones of Hyde Park Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Boutell died Saturday morning after a short illness. She was born Nov. 12, 1838, in Lyons, N. Y.

Mrs. Boutell was an army bride. Her husband was a captain in the Sixth Missouri infantry, the regiment much spoken of by Winston Churchill. He won his spurs at Vicksburg when he volunteered to lead a company of men across Chickasaw bayou and to the very momentous battle of the Confederates in order to dig a way for the artillery.

Three hours after Vicksburg was taken he had permission to go home. Had he waited an hour longer his wedding would have been a reality. The permit to leave was denied after that time.

Mrs. Boutell's maiden name was Kate H. Parsons, and she was a student of the Baptist school and at Mrs. Bryan's seminary there.

She made her soldier husband promise that he would leave the army as soon as his time expired. He was in the army for 12 years, and was discharged at Vicksburg. When the young captain's furlough was issued he went to the battle of Chattanooga. He brought his wife to St. Louis in 1864.

Mrs. Boutell has done much church work, giving much aid to the North Presbyterian Church. She was a member of Dr. Brooks' church. Three children survive her. Harry Boutell of Atchison, Kan.; Frederick C. Boutell and Edgar P. Boutell, both of St. Louis.

She was much loved by her three grandchildren, Stewart, Ethel and Rebecca Alden. Her sister, Mrs. Jennie Safford, of Loganport, Ind., will attend her funeral. Her other relatives are: Mrs. E. A. Beem of Cincinnati; Mrs. Elizabeth Foote of Ithaca, N. Y.; sisters, a brother, Charles F. Parsons, of New York.

Stenographers Victimized by Hoax

An advertisement for a young woman stenographer wanted at "the law library, Circuit Court building," was inserted in the Sunday newspapers, and nearly five hundred young women learned Monday that it was a hoax. The courthouse was overrun all day with women of all ages, vainly seeking the man who wanted a stenographer. Some laughed about it, some cried, others only wondered, and all were disappointed.

House of Delegates Will Demand Explanation From Board of Public Improvements

John R. McCarthy, speaker pro tem. of the House of Delegates, announced his purpose Monday morning of beginning war on the Board of Public Improvements by demanding, through a resolution, that they state why they do not allow competition in specifications for bituminous macadam paving.

McCarthy says his resolution will be introduced at the next meeting of the house. He declares that the Board of Public Improvements insists on inserting the name of "Warren" in its specifications, and that as the legislative body has no power to amend the Board of Public Improvements bills, it must either let the specific mention go through or kill the bill.

WOMAN BRIDE LEAVES HER OWN REQUIEM

Mrs. Kate H. Boutell, Well-Known St. Louis Church Worker, Dreamed of a Beautiful Eternity

I shall fall asleep in the twilight, as I have so often before. To dream of the beautiful city that I shall wake in no more. There will fall on my restless spirit a hush, O, so wonderfully sweet and still, cross over the river to rest at the Master's feet.

These lines found in her Bible will serve as a requiem for Mrs. Kate H. Boutell, wife of Mrs. Boutell of 1164 1/2 Euclid avenue, whose funeral services will take place at her home Tuesday afternoon. The lines will be read by Rev. William M. Jones of Hyde Park Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Boutell died Saturday morning after a short illness. She was born Nov. 12, 1838, in Lyons, N. Y.

Mrs. Boutell was an army bride. Her husband was a captain in the Sixth Missouri infantry, the regiment much spoken of by Winston Churchill. He won his spurs at Vicksburg when he volunteered to lead a company of men across Chickasaw bayou and to the very momentous battle of the Confederates in order to dig a way for the artillery.

Three hours after Vicksburg was taken he had permission to go home. Had he waited an hour longer his wedding would have been a reality. The permit to leave was denied after that time.

Mrs. Boutell's maiden name was Kate H. Parsons, and she was a student of the Baptist school and at Mrs. Bryan's seminary there.

She made her soldier husband promise that he would leave the army as soon as his time expired. He was in the army for 12 years, and was discharged at Vicksburg. When the young captain's furlough was issued he went to the battle of Chattanooga. He brought his wife to St. Louis in 1864.

Mrs. Boutell has done much church work, giving much aid to the North Presbyterian Church. She was a member of Dr. Brooks' church. Three children survive her. Harry Boutell of Atchison, Kan.; Frederick C. Boutell and Edgar P. Boutell, both of St. Louis.

She was much loved by her three grandchildren, Stewart, Ethel and Rebecca Alden. Her sister, Mrs. Jennie Safford, of Loganport, Ind., will attend her funeral. Her other relatives are: Mrs. E. A. Beem of Cincinnati; Mrs. Elizabeth Foote of Ithaca, N. Y.; sisters, a brother, Charles F. Parsons, of New York.

PAY OF 80,000 PERSONS LOWERED 10 PER CENT

Cut in Wages Goes Into Effect in Nearly All the Cotton Mills of New England.

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—The wages of 15,000 cotton mill operatives were reduced about 10 per cent today in New Bedford, Fitchburg, Andover, Lowell, Haverhill, Falmouth, Mass., and Pawtucket, R. I. The total number of mill hands who have had their pay lowered up to the present time is 80,000. Five thousand additional operatives in Berkshire county have been given notice that their pay will be cut next week. Most of the mills which have participated in the cut to date follow the course of the Fall River schedule, adopted Nov. 30. Of the operatives affected by today's notice, about 12,000 are employed in New Bedford.

SUITOR CAUSES HER ARREST

Alice Wright Quarreled With Admirer and He Told Police She Had Been Stealing

When Alice Wright of 938 North Twelfth street quarreled with her sweetheart and told him to never come back to her, he told the police she had been stealing small things from West End homes where she had been working.

The woman was arrested and her trunk searched. The police found that it was a veritable china closet. Scores of pieces of handsome china and numerous knives, forks and souvenir spoons were packed away in the trunks. In the number were several articles marked with the name of an Olive street carter.

The woman says she bought the property. The police are making inquiries at the homes where it is said she has worked.

ROMANCE IS IMPOSED UPON

While the waves of the North river were dashing their highest Sunday night in a 50 foot tank at the Imperial Theater, while two escaped convicts were battling in mid-stream for the possession of a faxon-haired baby, a most unromantic sneak thief removed a long black overcoat from one of the boxes, and while the audience thundered its approval of the mimic triumph of justice the purloiner escaped.

The police have been asked to look for a one-legged man with a histrionic pump as hard as his wooden leg. The theft occurred during the climax of the morning and cost disappearing at the same time. The loss was reported by H. S. Lewis, 1708 Washington avenue.

STRAINS FOR DEATH ON FLOOR OF CELL

Negro Charged With Attempting to Take Purse From Schoolgirl Makes Moose of Suspenders

After spending a night in the Dayton street police station awaiting trial for the attempted robbery of a girl 11 years old, Fred Young, a negro, 22 years old, tried to strangle himself with his suspenders in his cell Monday morning.

His groans were heard in the station. He was found lying on the floor, with one end of the suspenders knotted around his throat. The other end was tied to one of the cell bars, and Young had dragged himself every until the moose was drawn tightly and he was slowly choking to death. The suspenders were cut and Young was revived. Then he was taken to the Four Courts, where a warrant was secured.

Young is accused of having made frequent attempts in the past two years to rob small girls of the Carr Lane School, at Twenty-third and Carr streets of their purses.

Friday evening Amelia Colomb, 11 years old, of 308 Harper street, was going home from school when a negro met her at Beaumont and Morgan streets and asked if she would take a note for him. She consented, and the man led her into an alley, where he drew a large knife and reached for the little purse in which she carried her carfare.

A man in a uniform called for help. Her cries frightened him, and he ran.

CAN BLAIR BE HELD WITHOUT FORGED DEEDS?

Lawyers Differ on Value of Evidence in State's Possession—Precedent Exists for Conviction Without Documentary Evidence

OPINION OF PROMINENT ATTORNEY ON THE CASE

In Order to Secure a Conviction the Prosecuting Authorities Must Prove Three Distinct Charges Against Blair

In order to secure a conviction in the Blair case the state must prove:
1. That the state of limitations does not apply to the crime of forgery in the first degree.
2. That the crime of forgery, as charged in the Blair indictment, has been committed.
3. That Blair committed the act of forgery.

The prosecution admits that it is not in possession of the deeds Blair is alleged to have forged, which would be the strongest proof of the commission of the crime and also of the identity of the perpetrator.

A prominent attorney, discussing the case for the Post-Dispatch from the standpoint of the state is authority for the statement that men have been convicted of forgery without the introduction of the forged instruments. No such case is on record in Missouri, but Illinois, Ohio, Massachusetts and New York furnish precedents.

"Although not in possession of the deeds," said this attorney, "the state is in a position to introduce much evidence concerning them which will tend to prove that the crime of forgery was committed."

"In this category will come testimony regarding the examination of papers in the Blow estate, which Edward S. Robert, co-trustee with Blair, is known to have made a short time before the disclosures.
"This testimony will show that the original and legal deeds to the property described in the alleged forged instruments were found in the possession of their rightful owners. Upon comparison it was found that the alleged forgeries were careful copies of the originals."

ADMISSIONS MAY BE USED
"The original deeds are available for introduction as testimony and will doubtless be presented, showing where the property described in the forgeries has been lawfully owned."

"Further evidence along this line will

AMATEUR THEATRICALS LEAD WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE TO THE STAGE

Mrs. Edward Hafer, Former Social Leader of Cincinnati and Known to Many St. Louisans, Now a Member of the "Ulysses" Company.

Mrs. Edward Hafer, of Cincinnati, who has graced many a St. Louis drawing room during her recent social career, is again in St. Louis and this time will be seen over the footlights in "Ulysses" at the Olympic theatre. For the magnificence of theatrical life has taken possession of the society woman and she no longer cares for the luxurious living to which she has been accustomed.
Amateur theatricals which have fired her ambition so often, are responsible for Mrs.
Hafer's determination to appear on the stage in search of fame. As the wife of a well-known millionaire, she entertained much and the giving of little plays for her set in Cincinnati society, suddenly taught her what her possibilities were.

Blair's statement to Robert, when confronted with the deeds, that they were forged. The fact that Blair in this statement did not say he forged the deeds will make the statement admissible as proof of the crime. I am assuming that this admission was made by Blair, as is generally understood.

"It is to be expected that several persons will be able to tell about Robert's investigation of the alleged forgeries and of his talk with Blair just before the exposure, as it is not likely that all this took place without the presence of witnesses.

"Any correspondence regarding the alleged forged instruments between Blair and the Blow heirs or other persons will be admissible, and will prove important evidence of the commission of the forgeries.
"So much for proof of the commission of the crime.

"Now so far as I know, the state has no direct evidence connecting Blair with the forgeries. It must rely on circumstantial evidence at this point. The well-known principle of common law that circumstantial evidence is stronger than direct testimony must be borne in mind in this connection. Men have been convicted and hanged on circumstantial evidence.

"Absence of the alleged forged instruments will eliminate testimony regarding the handwriting, including the perplexing wrangles of experts. The only testimony along this line will possibly be that of witnesses who saw the alleged forgeries and may be able to swear as to handwriting.
This, however, is doubtful.

"Strong circumstantial evidence may be had in the fact that Blair reimbursed the Blow estate. Testimony on this point will be admissible. It will be a link in supporting the contention that Blair profited by
the crime.
The stories Blair told regarding the deeds will also be admissible, including the statement that his course had been taken to shield another."

BLAIR'S PROFITS IN EVIDENCE
"The records of the Blow estate offered in court will prove the negotiations and loans for which the alleged forged deeds were given as security. They should show that Blair as agent transacted the business and profited at least as an agent.
"Further evidence will be available regarding the notorious character of the alleged makers of the deeds, at least so far as these particular transactions were concerned. Testimony as to the ownership of the property described in the forgeries, as to the identity of its owners, and as to their ignorance of the Blow estate deals, will be important.

POLICY OUTWEIGHS COMITY

Claim for Return of Money Is Based on Interpretation of Illinois
Gambling Statute

By a decision rendered by Judge Burroughs in the circuit court at Belleville Monday, J. F. Wassell, an employe of the Mrs. Edward Hafer, takes his place among men of fame as the only man who got back from the Arnold get-rich-quick concern since its failure the full amount of the money put in, with interest.

The amount involved is $1300, and Judge
Burroughs decrees that the entire sum,
"with legal rate of interest to date," be paid to Wassell by the Belleville bank which holds it.

Wassell was an investor in the Arnold company for some time before the collapse and was drawing $10 a week "dividends."
A few days before the exposure and failure
Wassell decided to invest $1300 more.

He gave a certified check for that amount, drawn on the First National Bank of Belleville, to J. Edward Thomas of Atlanta, an agent for the Arnold company.
When the check came, the check had not been paid, and Wassell had Attorney Gus-tavius Blair stop payment on it.

Thomas sued to collect the amount of the check, alleging that he had sent Arnold his personal check for the same summation as agent, and that Wassell's check had thus become his personal property.
Judge Burroughs held that as, under the laws of Illinois, Arnold's concern was a gambling concern, Thomas, as its agent, was liable for the firm's wrongful acts, and had no recourse in Illinois by reason of the laws of the District of Columbia, in which the payment by check was made.
In commenting on this feature of the case,
Judge Burroughs said:

"Public policy outweighs the comity of one state toward another."

AKINS CAN NAME THE SUB-TREASURER

He Has Been Told That His Recommendation Will Be Accepted

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Thomas J. Akins has been informed that his recommendation for sub-treasurer to succeed Gen. E. C. Parrard will be accepted at the treasury department and at the White House.

Mr. Akins is now trying to find out if his recommendation will be satisfactory if he recommends himself.

Secretary Shaw is doubtful about this second proposition, although professing the greatest confidence in Akins' judgment.
President Roosevelt is thinking the matter over.

Secretary Shaw will take the matter up with the President tomorrow after cabinet meetings. At that time the two will go over all the candidates and their recommendations. Then the secretary will ask the President if he thinks it advisable for Akins to recommend himself. He will explain that Akins has been told that he can name the man for that office.

The present indications are that Akins will be advised to come out for himself.
If he does he will get the place. If he does not come out for himself it will be because he was advised that his judgment is good about the qualifications of other people for the office, but not good, or not trusted.

Representative Bartholdi called at the treasury department to talk the appointment over with Secretary Shaw this morning. He has not made up his mind yet who he will recommend for the office.
He will wait until the President and Secretary Shaw decide upon their choice and then he will be for that man.

What Did the Doctor Ask You?
Wanted to know if your bowels were regular, didn't he? That tells the secret of health. Keep your bowels in normal condition and no matter what your ailment, you won't be sick very long. A pill won't help you. You can't cure constipation with salts, castor oil or any other physic. They weaken the system and destroy the digestive organs. You need just the opposite effect.
Mull's Grape Tonic
Will Not Physio You.
It strengthens the muscles along the alimentary tube and enables them to move vigorously. Constipation is the poison of undigested food in your stomach and from this putrefying mass there arises poisonous disease germs which will undermine the strongest constitution.
Mull's Grape Tonic cures in a new way—the only way.
It is used in nearly every hospital and prescribed by many physicians. It is guaranteed to cure the worst case of constipation quickly and permanently. Here is what one of the many hundreds of cured persons have to say about it.
My attention was called to Mull's Grape Tonic by one who had tried it and was cured. My stomach was out of order, my liver torpid and I felt tired and worn out all the time. I took Mull's Grape Tonic and after taking one bottle I felt a much better. I decided to give it the full trial. I took three bottles and now feel better than ever before.
